Do You Know Traffic Rules for Bicycles?

Since 2016, the number of bicycle accidents among all traffic accidents has been on the rise. In the past, there has been an unfortunate incident where an old person died in an accident where a university student who was riding a bicycle while looking at their smartphone accidentally bumped into the person. We have formulated the Ordinance to Promote the Safe and Proper Use of Bicycles in Tsukuba City. The ordinance requires bicycle users to acquire knowledge and skills that are necessary for the safe use of bicycles.

Following are the rules and manners to promote the safe use of bicycles.

As a general rule, bicycles must be ridden on roadways, but can be ridden on the sidewalk under specific circumstances.

On roads where there is a clear distinction between a pedestrian lane and roadway, please use the roadway.

Note: If the road or sidewalk has a bicycle lane, please cycle on that lane.

The sidewalk is primarily for pedestrians, bicycles should go slow and keep to the side facing the road.

If your bicycle is passing through a pedestrian road, you should go slow. If there are many pedestrians, get off the bicycle and walk the road.

Follow safe traffic rules.

- Follow signals
- Do not drink and cycle
- Two people are not allowed on the bicycle at a time
- Do not cycle side by side with other cycles.
- Use your lights when it gets dark
- Stop at intersections and confirm that it is safe to go
- Wearing earphones, talking on the phone, using your umbrella while riding is prohibited
- Use your bell only for emergencies

Keep left on roadways

If you are riding your bicycle on the roadway, it should be on the left side just like cars. Move from the center of the road to the leftmost side and ride your bicycle.

Both adults and children should wear helmets

Make sure your child is wearing a helmet before riding the bicycle. Adults should also wear helmets to reduce the damage caused by traffic accidents.

What is Obon?

From around mid-July, you will start to see things like big platters of fruits and vegetables, chrysanthemum, Rakugan (bright colored sweets) in Japanese supermarkets. From mid-August, there is a time called Obon holidays where many Japanese people go to their hometowns and spend time with their families. Some companies even have holidays. This is a Japanese custom based in the Buddhism. Once a year, people welcome spirits of family members who have passed away, and spend time with them at home. For this custom, many supermarkets have baskets of “offerings” for these people, that contain fruits, chrysanthemum bouquets, Rakugan sweets. Although these are eatables, don't take these as presents for your Japanese friends.

Rules for Fireworks

Learn disaster prevention with Hookun Sencho — Emergency storage for first-timers —

Let's be prepared in case of emergency

In times of big disasters like earthquakes and typhoons, as well as those which do not have a direct impact on the city, there are cases where supplies of daily necessities, water and electricity are stopped. For times of emergency, be prepared with at least 3 days of supplies, and if possible one week of supplies.

Items to stock up:

- Drinking water (3 liters per person per day)
- Food items
- Portable charger
- Plastic wraps
- Plastic bag
- Medicines
- Toilet paper
- Portable toilet
- Mask
- Flashlight
- Portable stove and gas canisters
- Alcohol Disinfectant
- Disinfectant Wet Tissue

What is emergency storage of daily necessities?

Stock up on items like drinking water, groceries, daily necessities that are consumed regularly. When they are close to their expiry date, make sure to use them up, and replace those items. In this way even if you do not specially arrange for “preserved food”, you can keep stocking up on a certain amount of food items at home, and avoid finding out of emergency that the food you have stocked has expired.
