Reiwa 5 (F.Y. 2023)

Notice Regarding the F.Y. 2023 (Reiwa 5) Tsukuba City Price Inflation Assistance Benefits (¥50,000 per child) (Households Subject to Per Capita Tax Only)

In light of the increased burden caused by the sharp rise in the cost of living, the Japanese government has decided to provide Price Inflation Assistance Benefits amounting to ¥50,000 per child. These benefits will be based on applicants' household taxation status for F.Y. 2023.

This notice is intended for households that moved into Tsukuba City on or after January 2, 2023 and do not have their FY2023 resident tax information recorded in Tsukuba City, as well as for households with separated living arrangements.

Refer to the information below and the attached flyer, and apply only if your household is eligible for the benefit.

1. Beneficiary (head of household)

- ① All members of the household are not subject to the income rate residence tax for and at least one member is only subject to the per capita portion of the residence tax for F.Y. 2023. The following conditions must also be met.
 - All members of the household are not dependent of individuals such as relatives who are subject to the residence tax.
 - All household members do not have any taxable income or undeclared income subject to the income rate residence tax.
- ② The applicant must be supporting (sharing the same household and finances) a child eligible to be included in the benefit as of the date of application.

2. Benefits
